

Brainstorm PKV contacts

Here are a few more ideas of where you can find contacts for potential KV's and other possible strategic relationships, churches or resources:

- contacts and advice from other CCC ministries, Jesus Film, church-led or leader-led movements working in or near new universities you are targeting;
- contacts from existing student-led staff and involved students;
- friends of students studying in other universities or cities;
- financial supporters;
- internet evangelism and relationship connections through Facebook or other online resources (sow broadly and identify those most open);
- local churches and pastors;
- denominational and mission leaders; other missions and organizations, Bible schools, seminaries, etc.

Note: While our radar is up for these resources, remember we are looking for where God is obviously working and for people in whose hearts He places a similar vision. These are people with whom He may have prepared for us to partner. Our primary focus, though, is on potential student leaders on the university. Even if there are no known resources or contacts from the above sources, God may already have students prepared (some who may not even be believers yet!) to launch a movement on a new university.

Take some time now to list out 15-20 sources of contacts for Potential Key Volunteers.
